STUDENT LEADERS

The Student Council had no problem concerning the legality of meat lines and painted faces this year, but its attention has been directed to other channels. This executive committee has been exceptionally active, accomplishing a complete revision of the Constitution, as well as taking the initial step towards the long-dreamed-of Student Union Building.

Seated — Esther Hueftle, Elinor Brining, Ruth Hueftle, Phyllis Blackburn, Martha Lou Norton, Ruth Cossell, President, Beryl Palmer, Secretary-Treasurer, Caroline Adams, Vice-President, Florence Johnson, June Gale, Mildred Albertson.

Standing — Norbert Dreiling, Jack Main, Dean McCartney, Sponsor.

WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP . . . Stunt Night, Benefit Dance, Aiding at Red Cross, and parties for Aviation Students are some of the activities sponsored by this group of women leaders. First semester president, Mildred Albertson; second semester president, Caroline Adams.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS . . . The organization which is perhaps the most "up-to-the-minute" in regard to national and international affairs devotes its meetings to discussions of current events and special programs with outside speakers. Helen McKinney was first semester president; Annabelle Montgomery, second semester president.

QUILL CLUB . . . They "take their pen in hand" to draw word pictures for themselves and the group. To become a member, a student must submit a manuscript that meets the approval of active members. Evelyn Kraus is chancellor of Quill Club.

SWINGING ALONG SINGING A SONG

"Your son's gone back to school"

With the increase in emphasis upon air-power in the present war, it became evident to both civil and military authorities that unless immediate steps were taken, this country would be faced with a critical shortage of young men qualified both physically and mentally for training as commissioned aircrew combat teams.

It has been the general policy of the Army to refrain from entering the non-military educational field. However, late in the year 1942, it was realized that this policy must be dropped, or at least partially modified. As a result of this move, in January, 1943, the Army announced a training program in which men physically and academically qualified would be sent to certain established colleges throughout the United States for a period of training prior to entering the already established preflight units of which Ft. Hays was selected as one of these detachments.

Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association have been under the leadership of Ethel Cathcart and Lybran Endsley, respectively. Due to a drop in enrollment the two organizations have held joint meetings which have been made more interesting with outside speakers, movies, and parties. The Y.M. and Y.W. sponsored Religious Emphasis Week.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club is a religious organization of Catholic students in a non-secular institution. The group meets on the first and third Wednesday of the month and has affiliated with the Newman Club composed of the Aviation Students for social gatherings. Doris Peirano is president of the college club. The group also participated in Religious Emphasis Week.

TIGERETTES and BILL

CHEERING FOR VICTORY

The primary need for this group of pepsters was small until "the" K-Club, Bill Whitaker, organized a basketball team for the enjoyment of college men and army officers. First semester president of Tigerettes, Helen McKinney; second semester president, Laura Ann Patton; Cheerleader, Doris Peirano.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The girl athletes of Fort Hays have participated in and sponsored intramurals, a rummage sale, and an all-school carnival this year. Annabelle Wylie was president of W.A.A. — Orchesis and swimming are under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Barbour.

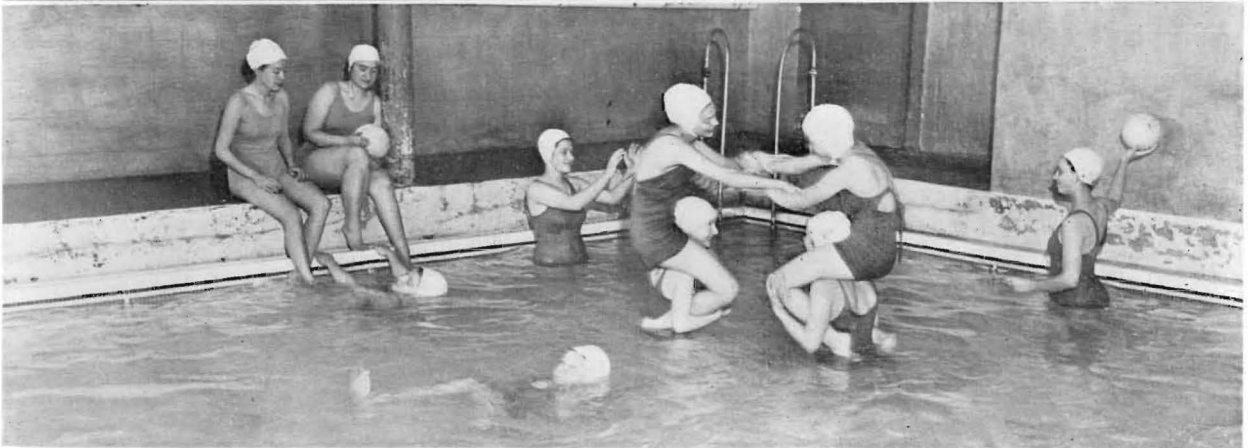

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The varied program of the physical education department this year includes such sports as: Volleyball, Tennis, Archery, Tapping, and various other forms of dancing.

ORCHESIS

The Orchesis group worked on a project during the fall semester, using poetry as an accompaniment instead of music. This project was chosen to aid the group in understanding the dance recital given in January by Miss Ruth Page.

DUCK CLUB

This group meets once a week — partly for fun, with games and stunts — and partly with a serious motive, since some in the group are working for American Red Cross Water Safety and Life-Saving Certificates.

THERE'S MUSIC IN THE AIR

Each listener is carried through a mist of memories as if by blended voices out of the past.

• • •

Director William Hugh Miller and the Women's Chorus made their first public performance this year at the Kansas State Teachers' Association. At the Christmas Vespers, the Chorus was obscured from view, allowing only its melodies to reach the consciousness of its audience.

• • •

THE MAESTRO TAKES THE STAND

The baton is poised and immediately the chords of the opening symphony fill the room.

These musicians, under the direction of Carl Malmberg and Robert Gantner, have been presented at two concerts this year. The first performance was for the State Teachers' Association and later a mid-winter concert was given at the St. Joseph's College. The Fort Hays Symphony has as members this year students of Fort Hays College and Hays High School, faculty members of the College, residents of Hays, and soldiers from the Walker Air Base.

The personnel is as follows: violins, Mildred Albertson, Cynthia Wooster, Carol Jean Gantner, Marjorie Lebsack, Evelyn Kraus, Roma Gatewood, Virginia Pratt, Corinne Miller, Lucille Felten, Irene Holtzinger, Betty Jean Schmutz, Mary Lou Fellers, Ted McNutt, Rosann King, Ruth Thomas, June Holcomb, Foster Needles, Marilyn Needles; violas, Clara Malloy, Bonnie Eastlack, Marion Witt, Virginia Oshant, Robert Wynne; cellos, Polly Lehwald, Lois Carpenter, Ruth Riggs, Alexander Meier, Mildred Simpson, Elaine Williams, Phyllis McCoid; basses, Tom Middleton, Dorothy Popp, Henrietta Hauschild, Jean Scott; flutes, Gertrude Morrish, Lois Lee Myerly, Agnese Turman; oboes, Hoyle Carpenter, Josephine Goodnough, Donna Jean Myerly; clarinets, Milton Shapiro, Father Timothy Gottschalk, Barbara Snyder, Elda Johnson; bassoons, Wanda Vine, Pat Felten; horns, Winnie Flora, Robert Eickbush, Robert Gantner; trumpets, Stanley Cauffman, Leon Cohen, Dale Barr, Gladys Schreiber; trombones, Lorna May Lewis, William Penrod; tuba, Jean Kenyon; percussion, Helene Wurm, Ruby Ellen Malmberg.

"Sailin', sailin', over the deep blue sea," and the Leader starts its voyage to the three-hundred odd Ft. Hays boys overseas with not a man on the staff. The weekly publication, despite the man-power shortage, "went to press" every Thursday, as it always has, and by Friday afternoon eighteen hundred copies had been mailed out. Under the capable direction of Marie Howk, editor and Mary Beth Burns, business manager, the Leader has become a link between the college and war camps. Those assisting her included:

The 1944 Reveille is presented by the staff as the result of their work throughout the school year to bring to you a panorama of campus activities. Although the staff was small, and activities have suffered alterations due to the war, it is hoped that this Reveille will serve as a mirror of college life, and an indication that an attempt is being made to continue a normal college year.

Phyllis Blackburn, junior, served as editor and Norbert Dreiling was selected from the freshman ranks, as business manager. Mr. Wendell Kellogg, adviser.

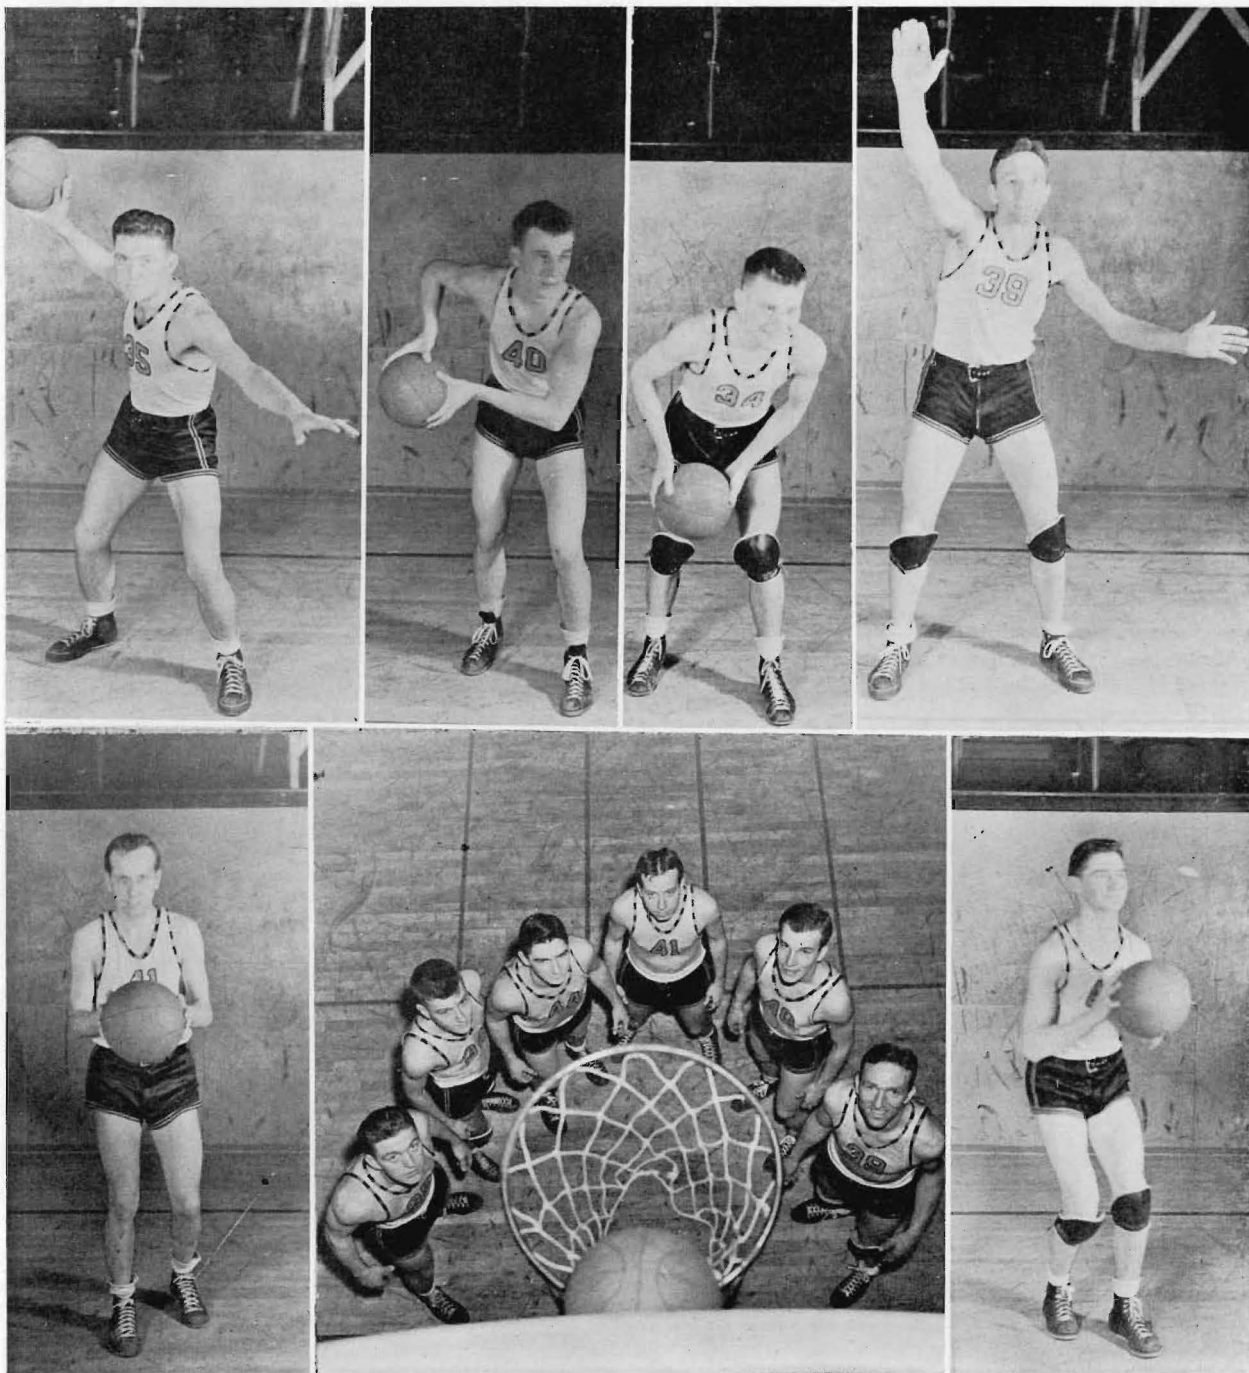

HOME ECONOMICS

The home-makers of tomorrow are the Home Economics Club of today. The Home Economics Club is open to majors and minors in home economics. Many interesting and worthwhile programs are held.

FORENSICS

The debate team, under the direction of Mr. James H. Start have represented the college in many contests throughout the state. The students have participated in the oratory, extempore speaking, and public relations discussion contests.

WAR-TIME-TIGERS

Yes, Fort Hays had a basketball team this year, and they enjoyed a most successful season. The mainstay on the team this year was Bill Whitaker, who organized and managed the "War Time Tiger Team," which was made up of Fort Hays men and Army personnel.

Pan Hellenic Council is composed of representatives from the four sororities on the campus. The purpose of the Council is to promote the same spirit and cooperation among the organizations as it is between individuals in every group. All groups stand for good scholarship, for the maintenance of high social standards, and good college citizenship. Sorority life is not the enjoyment of special privileges, but rather an opportunity to build character, develop personality and charm, and to serve others.

Pin Ups PREVAIL AT CUSTER AND WESLEY

For seventeen years, Mrs. Ethel McKenna (or "Mother Mac," as she is fondly known to "her girls") has reigned as housemother over Custer Hall. Seventy-seven girls resided there this year. Officers elected for the year were: Anna Mae Wolfram, first semester president; Marie Howk, second semester president; Irene Holtzinger, first semester vice-president; Peggy Stice, second semester vice-president; Beryl Palmer and Emma Albertson served as first semester secretary and treasurer, respectively, and Phyllis Roach and Elaine Grafel held the positions second semester.

Fifty Wesley Hall girls are under the supervision of Mrs. Martha L. Walter, housemother. Dorothy Sproul served as president to the "Wesleyites" both semesters. Estella Hays and Evelyn Kraus shared the position of vice-president, and Ruth Hueftle held the position of secretary-treasurer both semesters.

Both dormitories held an informal and formal party during the year.

What do we miss most on this campus? The answer is simple — men. There have been men here, but the ones we miss are those who sauntered to class whenever they felt like it, who wore short, loose coats, and whose long legs usually extended several inches from the cuffs of rolled-up trousers.

The fellows who guarded the banks with a wooden gun, who counted ties in the railroad from Yocemento to Hays, or who sat in trees and crowed every five minutes, have been painfully absent. Doubtless, the victims of "hell week" did not enjoy the procedure, but it amused us who were spectators, and we miss them.

There have been other organizations than the fraternities that have suffered for lack of men: K Club, Seventh Cavalry, Y.M.C.A., Chorus, Band, Orchestra, International Relations, Student Council; and the classes have seemed almost like those in a girls' seminary. There were no football games, no Homecoming, and the only dances were given by women.

So we are hoping and waiting impatiently for the time when this whole disgustingly grim business shall be finished and young men and women will return to the normal college life which we once knew, and which holds these now nostalgic, but happy memories.

— EVELYN KRAUS

IDEALS ARE PRACTICAL THINGS

Victory, complete and final, is the objective of every activity that now engages the attention of Government, of Industry, of Labor, and of Finance.

In war, as in peace, those who carry on in public service must hold fast to ideals.

Entrust your business to an institution that has served well through every major crisis for fifty-six years.
